

Studies in Disaster Recovery and Revitalization

Vol.13, 2021

Contents

Articles

- A Study on Long-term Evacuees of Fukushima Nuclear Accident: Survey Results and Analysis
Yoko Saito. . . . . 1
- A Study of Encouragement Given to Evacuees of the Fukushima Nuclear Accident by Residents of Host Areas: From a Questionnaire Survey of Evacuees in Osaka, Kyoto and Hyogo
Mayumi Furube, Ryosuke Aota. . . . . 17
- How Should Evacuation Shelters Respond in the Event of a Major Disaster: Learning from the Experiences of Families with Children and Female Evacuees
Tetsu Mugikura. . . . . 33
- Extent of Community Recovery after Ten Years from the Great East Japan Earthquake and Tsunami: Findings from a Questionnaire Survey of Disaster Area Residents
Yuka Kaneko, Yumi Shiomi, Toshihisa Toyoda, Akihiko Hokugo, Yuichi Honjo, Abel Táiti Konno Pinheiro and Yagane Ghezelloo. . . . . 51
- Empathy in Communication via Radio in Times of Disaster: Based on an Analysis of Listeners' E-mails during the Kumamoto Earthquake Disaster
Chisako Omuta, Masahiro Sawada and Yoshiteru Murosaki. . . . . 65

Report

- Poverty and Reconstruction after Nepal's Great Earthquake of 2015
Kyosuke Kurita, JAPKOTA JEET. . . . . 87
- Proposals on Policies and Systems for Long-term, Wide-area Evacuees from the Viewpoint of Evacuees of the Nuclear Power-Plant Disaster Based on a Survey Conducted Ten Years After 2011
Shigeki Yamanaka, Ryosuke Aota. . . . . 93
- Submission Guidelines . . . . . 108